OUR TEAM

At Melexis our world doesn't just revolve around chips and semi-conductors, but also around the people we work for. And work with. That is why we focus on abilities and applications, visualized by metaphors from nature. Be it an animal or plant, each metaphor underlines the concrete characteristics and applications of our products. The hummingbird is one of the animals that represents our company. We invite you to spread your wings and let your career take flight. Come join us!
